EASPD SEMINAR ON SELF-DIRECTED SUPPORT SYSTEMS IN EUROPE

EASPD is organising a seminar on self-directed support systems. The seminar will deal with ways to allow individuals to take the lead in identifying the support they require to achieve the outcomes that are important to them, therefore designing the support that best suits their specific needs. The seminar will include a key note speech from Mr Simon Duffy, expert and researcher at the Centre for Welfare Reform (UK) and examples from Belgium (Flanders), Finland, United Kingdom, Bulgaria and from The Netherlands will be presented. The objective of the seminar will be to take stock of the situation in Europe and see which strategies should be adopted to move forward.
